I am testing this feedback icon and its working. Your website is working perfectly on many icons but I did not find large number of videos in the gallery. Teaching videos are also only few. Article illustration is not working. Could I know about future SOMT through this website. Anyway I could say that this website will be very useful to students. I wish good wishes for its future.

Congratulations to the entire technical team for up-gradation of the DSSTF website in revised format. Now, it is more informative. I think that it will provide more exposure to our prestigious organization in the public domain. It will also provide the platform to share Science related information such as articles. videos. Thanks to our genius, hardworking and committed Tech team.
